

Jochen Niederberger

Jochen Niederberger studied economy and engineering. He joined ZwickRoell in 2001 and took over several roles in the ZwickRoell headquarter in Ulm - from product management and sales to business development. He has longstanding experience in the field of testing and regulatory requirements of the Medical/Pharma industry. In his current role as industry manager for Biomechanics& Orthopaedics, Dental and Biomaterial testing, he is member of different DIN and ISO standard committees.

